HÄFELE BIG NEWS THANKS TO ARCHITECTURAL AWARD CONTENDER

A prizewinning tree-top retreat with functionality from Häfele has made news across the world by listing on Australian real estate market.

The 555-square-metre single-level home, featured in The Daily Mail Australia can be bought fully furnished, with a $7.4 million asking price.

Known as 'The Edge', the Charles Wright designed house is up for Queensland home of the year after winning the 2015 Queensland Architecture Award for Building of the Year.

Inside, the interior is simple but perfectly finished, with innovative, state-of-the-art designs, including Häfele's Variotec frameless glass wall system, which the newspaper calls 'the most incredible feature of the home.'

It's just another example of how tools from Häfele can add massive value to your projects.

To find out more about Variotec visit hafele.com/au to download the brochure or contact your sales rep today.
